LINER TORPEDOED, 20 AMERICANS KILLED

Armenian With Cargo of Horses for British Army Sunk By German
Submarine Off Cornwall Coast.

Washington, June 30.—The Dominion freight liner Armenian, flying the British flag and carrying mail from Newport News, Va., to England was torpedoed and sunk on Monday night by the German submarine U-33 off Cornwall, England, and a score of American muleteers aboard are reported lost, according to messages received by the State Department today from Consul John S. Armstrong, Jr., at Bristol. Twenty-nine men in all were lost and ten injured.

The news created a sensation in official quarters as it was the first loss of American lives since the sinking of the Lusitania. The gravity of the incident, however, and the action of

ARMENIAN TRIED TO ESCAPE SUBMARINE

Impression Prevails in Official Circles in London That the United States
Will Not Be Able to Base a
New Protest on the Incident

(Special to The Herald)

London, July 1.—Despite the fact that more than a score of American lives were lost when the Armenian was sunk by a German submarine, the impression prevails here in official circles that the United States will not be able to base a new protest to Germany upon the incident.

The Admiralty has informed William H. Page, the United States ambassador, that the Armenian was engaged in carrying mules for military service, and carried no passengers. According to survivors she tried to escape the submarine and was flying the British flag at the time she was struck. All these facts militate against America's legal right to enter formal protest at Berlin although she could renew her demands for a modification of Germany's submarine law upon the broad and general grounds of humanity.

The destruction of the Armenian was the first submarine attack in which American lives were lost since the sinking of the Lusitania early in May. Even if the United States may not be able to protest against the death of Americans on the Armenian, the sinking of the ship will undoubtedly widen the differences that already exist between Germany and the United States.

(Special to The Herald)

London, July 1.—German seamen stood by and jeered while the Leyland line steamship Armenian, which was attacked by a German submarine off the Cornish coast, went to the bottom, according to survivors who were landed at Avon-Mouth today by the trawler Princess. The death list may reach thirty-five, of whom a score are Americans. Twenty-nine persons were reported missing but ten others were wounded, six of them seriously.

The later submarine attacks resulting in the loss of American lives has aroused much excitement throughout England, and the next move of the United States in the dealing with Germany over the undersea warfare, is being awaited with deep eagerness. A description of the sinking of the Armenian was given by survivors at Avon-Mouth today.

(Special to The Herald)

Malone, N. Y., July 1.—Evelyn Nesbitt today will fight the efforts of the state to compel her to appear as a witness against her husband, Harry D. Thaw in his sanity trial in New York. In order to escape testifying, she will plead illness and will send to Justice Hendrick a doctor's certificate stating that if compelled to go to New York her health will be seriously menaced. Mrs. Thaw today notified William McGuire, attorney of the attorney general's office, who served a subpoena upon her, that she was so ill to leave the camp at which she is staying.

WIFE SLAYER IS SENTENCED

(Special to The Herald)

London, July 1.—A verdict of guilty was returned today against George Joseph Smith, who was charged with murdering three of his wives to secure their insurance money. He was sentenced to death.

This brings to a close the most sensational murder trial in England since the case of Dr. Harvey H. Crippen. The verdict of guilty was based upon the murder of Beatrice Mundy. The other two charges against the prisoner were thrown out of court.

BECKER IS GRANTED A REPRIEVE

(Special to The Herald)

Albany, N. Y., July 1.—Attorney Martin Manton, counsel for Charles Becker, the former police lieutenant convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, announced today that Governor Whitman has granted a reprieve until July 25. The announcement by the lawyer was made about an hour after he had conferred with the governor.

MEXICO CITY AT MERCY OF HUNGRY MOBS

Courier Brings News That Entire Carrollson Has Been Withdrawn to Outskirts of City.

Washington, June 30.—Desperate conditions in Mexico City with unchecked mobs rioting and looting, are described in dispatches cabled to the United States government tonight from Vera Cruz by a courier, who left the Mexican capital last Friday, June 25.

When the courier started, practically the entire garrison had been withdrawn to join the Zapala army on the outskirts of the city, opposing the attacking Carranza forces under Gen. Pablo Gonzales. Gonzales had been driven back with considerable loss and he was waiting for reinforcements coming up from Vera Cruz before renewing the assault.

No mention was made of attacks upon foreigners, so officials assumed that they were safe. Many stores had been looted the dispatch said and the great mobs were rioting and seizing food wherever it was to be found. The dispatches were forwarded immediately to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H., and the situation will be laid before Secretary Lansing when he returns tomorrow from Amherst, Mass.

The Mexican capital has been cut off from communication with the outside world by wire and rail for 12 days. The last previous word from there came Monday night in the dispatches from the British charge, sent by courier who left the city June 23, two days before the departure of the messenger, who brought the reports received tonight. At that time conditions were only less serious than the latest dispatches described them.

The Zapatistas are said to have nearly 25,000 men and although poorly equipped for battle against the forces of Gonzales, which are well armed and plentifully supplied with ammunition are prepared to fight desperately before leaving the capital to Carranza.

Other reports to the state department tonight from Vera Cruz said three train loads of Carranza troops left there yesterday to reinforce Gonzales. Every available man it is understood, is being rushed to the scene.

The chief fear of the officials here is that the fighting will be carried into the capital itself, endangering the lives of foreigners and creating a situation far worse than any rioting by hungry civilians.

No further report had been received here tonight concerning developments in the cases of Huerta and his associates arrested at El Paso. Officials of the department of justice let it be known that they had no reason to believe that General Felipe Angeles was implicated in the alleged Huerta revolutionary plot.

SUBMARINE H-3 FLOATED AND IS NOT DAMAGED

San Francisco, June 3.—The submarine H-3 which went on the rocks last night near Point Sur lighthouse, 115 miles south of here, was floated at high tide today.

Previous messages that the boat was undamaged were confirmed by a radio message to local naval authorities that the submarine was proceeding to San Francisco. The H-3 started from San Diego the day before yesterday.

ONE DEAD, OTHER DYING FROM BURNS

(Special to The Herald)

Lawrence, Mass., July 1.—Iva Lavelle, aged 13, is dead, and her brother Wilfred, aged 10, is dying as the result of burns sustained at a camp on the Merrimack river when a stove exploded. Having been drenched in the rain, the two children ran into the camp and lit the fire to dry themselves. A stick of dynamite used in the construction of a boulevard nearby blew the stove to pieces.

KITTERY POINT.

The Woman's Board of Home and Foreign Missions, connected with the First Christian church, will meet on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Annie Moulton. All members are requested to be present.

Another big tearful net will be seen at the Portsmouth Theatre this evening in the form of "The Belles of Seville," a Spanish dancing girl act. Don't miss it; one of the best yet.

CONSPIRACY HEARING IS POSTPONED

(Special to The Herald)

El Paso, Texas, July 1.—The hearing of General Huerta and General Orozco on a charge of conspiracy to violate the neutrality laws of the United States was postponed today until July 12. Similar action was taken by United States Commissioner Oliver in the cases of the four other Mexicans alleged to have played a smaller part in the conspiracy.

The postponement was taken to await the arrival of a Federal judge and witnesses who are to be subpoenaed at New York, Chicago, New Orleans and other cities.

NO TIME LIKE THE PRESENT

Every successful gown and dress shown in the fashion displays this year absolutely demands a corset to set it off.

The so-called "corsetless" figure has passed. Dress this year demands a shaped waist line and flat silhouette in front and back, and this is not possible without a corset.

Warner's Rust-Proof Corsets

show every feature necessary for current styles.

Fashionable bust heights run slightly higher than a year ago, but are well goared to support the upper figure without confining it. Skirts are a trifle shorter and the waist line gives indications of a fitted snugness. Yet the garment is comfortable and easy as you wish.

SUNAPEE WATER SUPPLY IS CAUSING TROUBLE

Concord, June 30—Difference of opinion between the Sunapee Dam Company and the Lake Sunapee Improvement Association as to the amount of water that the former can draw from the lake is likely to lead to long litigation.

The agreement between the parties was entered into in 1904, following a suit brought by the improvement association, to restrain the dam company from raising the water in the lake to a height which flooded summer properties along the shores. The decision in that case was in favor of the summer residents. The court established the maximum height to which the water could be raised by the dam company and awarded damages to transportation companies and cottages.

By the agreement the minimum height to which water could be drawn was 8.5 on the gauge of the company at the dam. At present it stands at 8.1 and is gradually receding to a point where navigation will not only be difficult but dangerous.

The present controversy developed when the association asked the dam company to stop further flow of water until such time as the lake should regain its normal level. This the company, which supplies water to various industries along the Sugar river, refused to do, on the ground they were not stopped by the agreement from using the natural outflow from the lake.

Since then efforts have been made to secure a settlement and conferences have been held in Boston, New York and other places, but these have been fruitless. As a last resort a meeting of the improvement association has been called to be held at Sunapee park tomorrow, at which the matter of bringing suit to restrain the dam company from drawing further from the lake will be determined.

At present the level of the lake is so low that practically all of the private bathhouses are out of commission and boats of the Woodman Steamboat Company are not only finding navigation dangerous, but it is with difficulty that they are making some of their scheduled landings.

HOTEL WENTWORTH NEWS

Among the early season guests are Miss Phyllis Neilson-Terry of London and her manager, Mr. Cecil King, both of whom are on their way to the exposition; Miss Terry recently scored a success in a revival of "Tribby" at the Shubert Theatre, and is a niece of Ellen Terry, the English actress. She will play in the leading cities in this country in the early fall.

Mr. Samuel R. Hood is spending a week here. Mr. Hood is president of the American News Company.

Among the old friends welcomed back for the 1915 season are the following: Miss Claire Howard, professor of English at Columbia University, and her mother, Mrs. A. D. Howard of New York city; Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Thayer and Miss Allen, of Worcester, Mass.; Capt. and Mrs. C. A. Boone of Toronto, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McTearns, New York city; Morris

WITH THE SPORTS

New York, July 1—The Federal league as a whole has a fine chance at this writing to clear expenses this season. Several clubs in the league will show a profit at the end of the year if the attendance to date is maintained to the end of the season.

The biggest surprise in the financial war has been the support given this season to the St. Louis and Kansas City Clubs. The Federal Moguls during the winter, decided to drop Kansas City from the circuit. They did drop it but had to pick it up again upon orders from the courts granting the plea of the Kansas City stockholders.

From the opening of the 1915 season to June 20th the Kansas City Federals drew a larger total crowd than they did all last summer. Facts and figures to back up this statement were shown to the writer recently. The Kansas City clubs drew a 14,000 Sunday crowd recently and during one series drew about 18,000 paid fans.

Kansas City has been up in the fight. Last year it was in the rut. That two fans love a winner and will not support a loser is proven in the case of Kansas City which had been termed "the worst baseball team in the country."

The St. Louis Feds furnish the next largest surprise. So far in the 1915 season a period of twelve weeks, the St. Louis Feds have played to a larger crowd of home fans than they did during the entire 1913 and 1914 seasons.

St. Louis began moving in an upward direction about six or eight weeks ago and the St. Louis fans, taking recognition of the fact, have been supporting them nobly. The St. Louis Feds play to thousands at home now where they played to hundreds before.

Out in St. Louis there's a sort of "hoist the Cardinals" in operation. And Bob Hodges, owner of the Browns is trying to lure fans to his park through the medium of advertising schemes. Despite this, the Feds are said to have outdrawn the Cards and the Browns in home patronage during the past six weeks.

The Pittsburgh Feds claim they are outdrawing the Pirates in Pittsburgh. They say they are perfectly willing to produce sworn attendance statements, if Barney Dreyfuss will do likewise and that the comparison will show the Feds' patronage in Pittsburgh greater than that of the National leaguers.

Buffalo and Baltimore aren't doing as well this year as they did last, but that is to be expected with both teams in the cellar. Brooklyn is doing at least 75 per cent better than last year and the attendance has increased gradually since the season opened.

Newark supported its new club royally during the early part of the season. Then the team slumped and the attendance naturally did likewise, but Newark's early attendance receipts were sizable enough to place the balance on the right side of the ledger and only the almost utter lack of patronage during the balance of the season can swing the balance to the losing side.

Practically every club in the Federal league is operating at less cost than in 1914. Some clubs have dropped off as much as $25,000 from their expense bills. Very few of the clubs are carrying any more than 22 or 23 men. The average was from 25 to 27 last year. Many players who signed one year contracts at fancy figures are not in the Federal league this year.

The schedule of the Feds this year is more compact than was last year's. That means a saving in traveling and hotel bills. The Fed magnates, new at the game last year, wasted a lot of money. Last year's experience showed them their errors—and they are not duplicating them this year.

RECEIVE THEIR MAIL REGULARLY

Central Military Bureau Looks After French Soldiers.

French soldiers at the front receive their mail with fair regularity. The central military bureau for the distribution of letters and packages to the various corps, divisions and companies is an enormous affair, distinct from the normal postal service.

Its work has increased in an astonishing manner since last August. For instance on October 30th last there were received more than 1,000,000 letters, 947,000 registered packages, 18,000 newspapers and 30,000 post office money orders.

Seven months later on May 26th, there were received about 14,000,000 letters, 750,000 registered parcels, 183,000 newspapers and 57000 money orders. This meant that the work of the army postal service had increased ten times.

In all the enormous masses of letters and cards, not to mention the parcels sent to the soldiers, it is evident that a large number could never reach their destination owing to the men being rapidly and unexpectedly moved, or worse, killed. Between August 1, last year and May 15th eight and a half million of letters came back, and about 60,000 parcels were returned to the undelivered room.

But nothing daunted, the administration had succeeded in ferreting out about one third of the addresses of the letters and finally delivering one-half of the original stray parcels.

This has always been a difficult and delicate task owing to the insufficient addresses of opened letters. Some of these letters contained small sums in paper money, which is of course against the rules, but the authorities forgave the fault and did the best they could to deliver the money where it was intended to go.

With the best will in the world the post office was left with about $7,500 out of $85,000 that thus fell into its hands. A most satisfactory solution was found however by applying sums unclaimed after three months to the relief of the wants of the men at the front who had no one apparently to look after them and especially those men who come from the invaded and occupied provinces and who of course are cut off from all communication with their families.

While the traffic has increased the staff of the post office has necessarily decreased as at least 15,000 of the usual staff of the administration are at the front. In these circumstances it is most extraordinary that the remaining employees should be able to cope with the masses of correspondence and parcels.

The merit should be awarded in great part to the feminine staff, many of whom have been recruited since the war and given the work of men, even to the handling of enormous sums of money, a department which heretofore was strictly reserved to the male members of the administration.

"ROSE TIME" RECITAL PLEASED LARGE AUDIENCE

Pupils of Mrs. Hall Scored Success at Public Performance

A "Rose Time Recital" was presented at Freeman's Hall last evening by the pupils of Mrs. Alice Swasey Hall and was enjoyed by a large audience. The recital consisted of solos at the piano, songs by the little ones and solos and instrumental music by well known artists, including Miss. Sara Dickey Simpson, mezzo soprano; Mrs. Fannie Mudgett, cornet; Charles L. Browne, and Mrs. Hall.

The program was one designed to show the skill of the pupils and was far from tedious, as the piano work was enlivened by the introduction of clever little songs and choruses sung by the little ones. These were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hall. Each of the numbers were received well, merited applause and only the length of the program prevented many well-deserved encores.

The instrumental solos by Mrs. Mudgett and Mr. Browne were also appreciated, and the songs by Mrs. Simpson were listened to with the full attention and appreciation of the hearers.

In the second part of the program the pupils were seated on the stage, and presented a very pleasing appearance. There was nothing to indicate that the little ones weren't entirely at home and there did not appear to be a single case of stage fright.

The pupils taking part in the recital were:

Margaret Abear, Margaret Neville, Elizabeth Weston, Hazel Twombly, Eunice James, Anna Boylch, Fannie Siegel, Elvira Miner, Elizabeth Phelan, Delta Ward, Mary Siegel, Beatrice Mudgett, Dora Freeman, Louise Shepherd, Edith Bolton, Doris Phelan, Geraldine Ward, Mary Neville.

BLIND WILL LEAD BLIND AS SIGHTLESS OARSMEN RACE ON RIVER THAMES

Worcester, England, June 30.—Two of the strangest rowing crews are those which are soon to race on the Thames river. Boys of the School for the Blind here have accepted the challenge of four former students of the institution to a race to the Balsh street, near Washington. The establishment is one of the best equipped of its kind in the country. The fund for the construction was raised a year ago last March, and the whole outfit represents an outlay of about $75,000. Governor Walsh, Bishop Hamilton and George W. Coleman and members of the Boston city council will be the principal speakers.

Mrs. H. L. B. Darling of this city is to be one of the principal speakers this week at the Child Welfare Week at the Panama Exposition. The entire six days will be of earnest consideration of the problem of increasing the child's chances in life. The conference is in charge of the United States Children's Bureau which Miss Julia C. Lathrop, the only woman bureau chief in the public service is the head.

Delegates from all parts of New England are attending the First New England Brevith League Institute meeting this week at Lasell Seminary at Abundant. A series of lectures, incidents of league work, will be delivered during the session. About two-thirds of the delegates are women.

Four prominent business men have been chosen to serve on the International High Commission a new board which is to seek to increase trade relations between this country and the countries of South America, by having uniform tariff regulations adopted. All four have written Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo accepting the appointment. They are Joseph O'Neill, of the Federal Trust Company; John H. Bailey, president of the International Chamber of Commerce; Daniel C. Wing, president of the First National Bank, and Roger W. Babson, the statistician of Wollesey.

The campaign for the Republican nomination for governor has already started so far as Samuel W. McCall is concerned. ## ANNUAL BANQUET AND BALL ENDS DRUGGISTS' CONVENTION

The two days' convention of the New Hampshire Pharmaceutical Association came to an end in the early hours when the Hotel Wentworth orchestra finished playing the "Home Sweet Home" waltz at the annual ball.

The weather man had been kind to the druggists until yesterday afternoon when he spoiled the program of sports with rain. There had been a ball game planned to be played by teams of the druggists and the Traveling Men's Association. The other sports, consisting of races and other athletic events also had to be sidetracked.

The annual banquet was held last evening in the dining room of the hotel and an elaborate musical program was presented by the hotel orchestra, under the direction of Carl Bahr. Several numbers, among them being Buhlard's "Stein Song," "Mrs. Casy's Boarding House," "Winter Song," "Holland," and the sextet from "Lucia" was fully sung by the Aeolian Male Quartet of Portsmouth: Emil C. Cook, John W. Mitchell, Alessio Bulbeck and Ira A. Nowick.

Following the banquet the newly elected president, B. T. Porter of Ashland, introduced Louis G. Gilman of Manchester as toastmaster and the guests were all of the opinion that he ably filled the position. Speeches were made by ex-Mayor Daniel D. Badger of Portsmouth; Secretary of the State Edwin C. Dean; E. C. Kennison, the incoming president of the Traveling Men's Auxiliary; Walter L. Nichols, John H. Perleval, and John E. Kelly.

All the speeches were interesting and were given close attention by the them at a distance, to believe them blind. Of course it is necessary for the coxswain to see, but the others are totally blind. In previous school races of this sort spectators have been heard to remark, when the winner crossed the line that it was a case of the "blind leading the blind."

members of the association and their guests. The musical program by both the quartet and the orchestra was pleasing and together with a fine menu the evening was voted one of the most successful of the annual conventions.

At the close of the banquet the party adjourned to the hotel ball room where the annual ball was held from 10:30 until one this morning. The music for the dancing was furnished by the hotel orchestra.

The annual election of officers was held yesterday morning and resulted as follows:

President, B. T. Porter of Ashland. Vice Presidents, George W. Boardman, Portsmouth; W. H. Brown, Pittsfield. Secretary, Eugene Sullivan, Concord.

Treasurer, S. Howard Bell, Derry. Auditor, John H. Marshall, Manchester. Executive Committee, Goodwin E. Philbrick, Portsmouth; Joseph LeBlanc, Manchester; Eugene Sullivan, Concord.

The Traveling Men's Auxiliary chose the following officers: President, G. W. Kennison, Lawrence.

Vice Presidents, D. J. MacDougall, Lowell; R. E. McLaren, Everett.

Secretary and Treasurer, John McGrath, Boston.

Executive Committee, F. E. Morgan, Cambridge; John H. Purcell, Dorchester.

Following the business session the party was photographed, after which they visited Forts Stark and Constitution.

city in this year are promised by the McCall managers that from now until primary and election days there will be a lot of real campaigning, first to have McCall nominated over Gracie, D. Cushing and then elected over Governor Walsh. However the Democratic gubernatorial candidate may be. The tour will start at Springfield. In addition to giving the voters of Western Massachusetts an opportunity to see and hear McCall, Manager Baxter intends the tour to be one for the development of McCall organizations in all cities and towns.

The 22d year of the Boston Floating Hospital's work began today. Many sick babies will be admitted to the permanent and day wards. The work is supported by contributions from the public.

Higher cost of construction in American shipyards, higher cost of operating American vessels, and the difference in tonnage measurements under the American and British laws, are the principal reasons for the present conditions of the American Merchant Marine, as described by Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's Union at a meeting of the local union.

Radical changes in the labeling of food and drug packages are the recommendations of the sub-committee of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce. The committee is of opinion that the labeling of food and drugs under the present system of state and federal laws is unfair to both the consumer and the manufacturer. The recommendations look forward to the establishment of uniform food and drug laws in the various states. It proposes that instead of printing the formula upon labels or packages, as is now the case, the various foods and drugs be submitted to the Department of Agriculture which, after analysis, will give the commodity a number that will guarantee its compliance with the law.

A Wonderful Demonstration.

If the people were not accustomed to wonders what was accomplished at the great automobile race in Chicago last Saturday would be the wonder of the day, and with such familiarity as there is with startling things the results of this mighty contest are sufficient to compel unusual and deserved attention. The distance run by the racers was 500 miles and all world's records were broken, ten drivers having made the run at better than 90 miles an hour—more than a mile and a half a minute for 500 miles! The ordinary person must stop and catch his breath to realize what this means, and even then the realization can hardly be complete. It sounds more like fiction than fact, but the records attest that the accomplishment was a cold, hard fact.

Of course, all of the conditions were exceptional. The race was run on a board track offering no more obstruction than would the surface of a mirror. The machines used were constructed with a view to speed and the drivers were men of great skill and nerve. The winner of the first money made an average of 97.6 miles an hour and he was closely hugged by nine others, the average of the lowest man being 90.3 miles an hour. More than a mile and a half a minute for a stretch of 500 miles! It was indeed a marvelous performance and the 80,000 people who witnessed it saw an exhibition of speed such as the world has never witnessed before. The railroads and flying machines have to take a back seat in comparison with this mighty accomplishment. And a most remarkable feature of the race was that it was finished without injury to a driver or a spectator.

All this shows the possibilities of a machine that has come to play so important a part in the life of the times. In the practical use of the automobile great speed is no more necessary than in the practical use of a horse. "But from time immemorial lovers of horses have enjoyed seeing what they could do in the development of speed, and there is an equal interest in knowing what can be accomplished with an automobile when it is put to the test. This race demonstrated the possibilities in a manner to stagger even those who were almost ready to believe that there is no limit to human achievement.

But all this is by way of demonstration and public entertainment. Meanwhile the motor vehicle, for business and pleasure, is doing its work day by day, attracting no more attention than horse-drawn vehicles. It is a very useful invention and it has come to stay. It has taken its place in the list of indispensable.

A man who has just retired as the principal of a high school in a Massachusetts city was presented by the teachers with a substantial purse of gold, and to prove that the teachers are women it is only necessary to state that the coin was neatly packed in a box of fudge. And of course there was more or less of what some people would call "fudge" in what the principal and teachers had to say to and of each other.

A clairvoyant was arrested in Massachusetts the other day for selling medicine that contained more than 50 per cent of alcohol. In diagnosing her cases she would go into a trance, and in treating them she would put her patients in a trance. The authorities of the town in which she was operating were entirely excusable in objecting to this process of extracting robbery from the pockets of the unwary.

The employees of the state department have presented former Secretary Bryan with a beautifully engraved gold watch, and in accepting it Mr. Bryan assured the donors that he should prize it as a personal token and not as "an expression of political attachment." Honors may now be considered even.

When soldiers are discharged they leave the ranks, but the graduates discharged from institutions of learning go forth to take their places in the ranks that are fighting the battles of life, and, in spite of all the jokes cracked at their expense, many of them rise to positions of honor and distinction.

WANTS MILITIA TO ENFORCE PROHIBITION

Augusta, Me., June 30.—Rev. William P. Berry told Governor Curtis at the council meeting today that he believed he should warn negligent sheriffs and if, after warning them, they still refused to enforce the prohibitory law the legislature should be convened to impeach and remove them.

He said the militia should be called out to enforce the law if no other means could be found to enforce it. Governor Curtis in reply said that he had no power as governor to cause the law to be enforced and quoted from Judge Emery an opinion that Maine governors are made to take an oath which they are made powerless to keep.

He asked Mr. Berry to show him what power he had as governor to enforce the prohibitory law and Mr. Berry insisted that he should use the legislature.

ANNAPOLIS CADETS ARE ARRESTED

Charged With Hazing and Additional Arrests Are Expected Today.

Annapolis, Md., June 30.—Seven midshipmen were put under arrest at the naval academy today charged with hazing or "running" members of the fourth class, formed since the close of the school year, early this month. It is also understood that additional arrests may be made tomorrow. The youths were involved as the result of disclosures made by plebe victims to the board of inquiry named by Superintendent Follam, which began its investigations yesterday. The names of all concerned were withheld by the academy authorities.

Admiral Follam said today on his return from Washington, where he had a conference with Secretary Daniels, that the hazing trouble would not interfere with the sailing of the fleet for San Francisco on July 7, as directed by the secretary.

the Washington government, depends almost entirely on whether the Armenian was chartered by the British government and was, in fact, a transport of war aboard which Americans would sail at their own risk, or whether she was an unarmed merchantman. In the latter case, even though carrying contraband, the ship should have been subjected to visit and search and those aboard transferred to a place of safety before the destruction of the vessel was attempted.

In the absence of official information on these points, officials decline to say what effect the sinking of the Armenian would have on pending negotiations between the United States and Germany. Immediate inquiry was directed however to Ambassador Page at London to secure more details, and when Secretary Lansing returns tomorrow Ambassador Gerard will be instructed to inquire of the German Admiralty as to its report.

From the messages received it appears that in addition to the torpedo, at least one shot was fired from a disappearing rifle. The consul's report said the wireless house was "taken by second shot." It was not made clear whether the Armenian was first ordered to halt and resisted, capture requiring a second shot, or whether the submarine attacked without warning. The fact that the number of the submarine was given indicated that she had come to the surface to make the attack.

Mules are contraband of war, according to all the lists of the belligerents, so there can be no doubt as to the contraband character of the Armenian's cargo. Officials will make an effort to learn however, whether the vessel was armed and whether she was a part of the British naval force before the opinion of the State Department on the case will be disclosed.

All the dispatches received were promptly telegraphed to President Wilson at Cornish, N. H., and Secretary Lansing at Amherst, Mass., and it was considered probable that they would communicate with each other while in New England.

The message from Constantinople did not show clearly just how many Americans were lost. In his list of Americans missing he named 20 sailors—eight whites and 12 negroes—who were unaccounted for, but later telegrams spoke of Dr. J. S. Vase, a Porto Rican, and three negroes, as having been picked up by a submarine and other survivors by a Belgian trawler and transferred to two British destroyers, which brought them into Bristol.

Official advisers here tonight were to the effect that the Armenian had been chartered by the Leyland line to the Dominion line, which is understood to have a contract for the shipment of mules for the British government and has made many trips in the mule trade in the past few months.

CURRENT OPINION

Workers' Right to Share in the Profits Now Recognized to Be Good Business.

The impossible is happening. Labor and capital are joining hands. The thing which everybody has wanted and few have dared to hope for is rapidly becoming an actual fact in American life. Quietly and almost unnoticed by the general public, the great change has begun. It is the change from competition to co-operation, from profit grabbing to profit sharing, from industrial war and the hope of conquest to industrial peace and the assurance of prosperity.

A house divided against itself cannot stand. Industry can not continue to develop upon a war basis. Unless the workers have a direct interest in the success of the industry the most perfect mechanical system will lag and break.

This is not the discovery of a social reformer. It is a fact which all practical men must recognize. It will not do simply to deplore the "loss of loyalty" among the workers. We must understand why that loyalty has vanished.

The answer is found in the very things which made industry on a large scale possible—universal education and intercommunication. Without these modern industry could not exist. With them the ancient relations of capital and labor cannot exist.—By George W. Perkins, Capitalist.

GOVERNOR AS NAVY ADVOCATE

Believes U. S. Navy Should Be Increased Largely and Rapidly as Possible.

Concord, June 30.—Governor Spaulding gave his views on the nation's defense in the New York Sun, as follows:

By Roland H. Spaulding, Governor of New Hampshire

I will say briefly that I think the power of the navy of the United States should be increased largely, and as rapidly as possible.

I do not believe that this nation should maintain a great standing army and I am not impressed with the necessity for raising largely the present number of our National Guard.

I believe that we should have enough ships adequately armed, efficiently officered and well manned so that we need have no fear of invasion by any hostile power, and so that the dignity and honor of the flag of the United States of America can be maintained anywhere and everywhere on the globe.

With this provision made I can see no necessity of our becoming a nation under arms.

WILLIAM C. WYLIE PASSES AWAY

Veteran Diver and Hotel Man Had Eventful Life.

William C. Wylie, well known in this city died at his home at Rosemary Junction, Elliot, on Wednesday after a lingering illness. He was born in London, N. H., December 9, 1840, the son of Reuben and Maria Wylie. His father moved to Haverhill, Mass. when he was quite young and his early education was gained in the public schools of that city.

His father was an expert carpenter and at the age of 12 the son began to follow that occupation under the instruction of his father, working at his trade until he was 17 years of age.

In 1856 he worked with his father at the Isles of Shoals in building an addition of thirty rooms to the Atlantic House, then occupied by Lemuel Caswell.

In the early part of 1857 the Bay State Wrecking Company of Boston, at the request of the Russian government, decided to send a force of men to Sebastopol to endeavor to raise some of the 107 vessels that had been sunk by the Russians in 1855 during the Crimea war to keep the English out of Sebastopol Harbor.

Mr. Wylie's father was engaged as foreman carpenter of the expedition, and his son readily agreed to accompany him on his trip to the far East.

After being absent for about two years he returned to the United States and in the early '60s came to this city and secured employment on the navy yard, working on the U. S. S. Franklin and the monitor Agamemnon. While at work at the yard a war vessel that was bound to the yard lost a large anchor, and several fathoms of chain in the narrows.

There was a diver's armor at the yard and when it was learned that Wylie had done some submarine work he was asked to go down and recover the anchor and chain, receiving $50 for the job.

After that he did the diving around the yard for several years until after the close of the war.

He followed diving as an occupation for several years until he got to stout to do a diver's armor. During that time he was employed by Gen. Thorne the United States army engineer at Portland to make a survey of the coast from Gloucester, Mass., to Bangor, Me., working 97 days and receiving $20 per day.

After giving up diving Mr. Wylie engaged in hotel and restaurant work. For three years he managed the Diamond Island Hotel at Lake Umbagog, for the Boston, Concord and Montreal railroad.

He afterward managed the Laconia Hotel at Hopkinton, owned by George E. C. Bailey; the Medford Spring hotel in Concord, and the Kearsarge and Marlboro hotels in this city.

For ten years he presided over the restaurant and waiting station at

MORE REPAIRS.

Fire Alarm Repeater in the Hands of Experts.

The fire alarm is again in the hands of experts from Gamewell Company, who are overhauling the repeater system at the Hanover street engine house. It was found that some parts of the repeater which has been in service a dozen years or more, were badly worn and that the apparatus needed a general cleaning and repairing.

It is understood that it is being arranged to regulate the alarm for quicker action and that not so much steam will be used in the future when a box is pulled in. With this improvement and nearly fifteen miles of copper wire strung about the city there should be no reason for any bad behavior on the part of the alarm.

GERMAN DRIVE ON WARSAW CONTINUES

Russians Retreat Orderly--Allies Gain on Straits and Bombard Coast of Aisa

Berlin (via London), June 30.—The Teutonic allies in their advance over the Galician border into Russian Poland, in the region of Tomaszów, have captured that Polish town, according to an Austrian official statement given out in Vienna last night. The statement also says that strong Russian forces north of Kamionka, twenty-five miles northeast of Lemberg, were repulsed with great loss Monday night, after heavy fighting. The text of the statement follows:

"In East Galicia the Teutonic allied armies, pursuing the enemy, reached the Gila Lipa river and the Bug river, near Kamionka. The Russian troops on this line are now being attacked. On Monday we captured Lemberg."

"Strong hostile forces standing near Sietec, north of Kamionka, were last night, after heavy fighting with great loss, repulsed to Krystian pol. "North of Rawa Ruska, and north of Cieszanow, the Teutonic allies advanced on Russian territory. We occupied Tomaszów."

"Monday night the enemy evacuated his positions on the northern Tanow river and on the north bank of the San and began a retreat in a north-eastern direction, everywhere pursued. In Poland and on the Dniester river the situation is unchanged."

Austrian Loss Put at 40,000

A despatch from Innsbruck, Austria, dealing with the fighting in Galicia, says that, according to estimates made in Innsbruck, "In the Russian counter-attacks around Lemberg the Austrians have lost 40,000 men since June 23."

The despatch continues: "The Russians are resisting strongly on the left bank of the Zelder. The Austrians

ITALIAN SOLDIERS ON WAY TO FRONT.

The accompanying photograph was taken in Rome, Italy, a few weeks ago. It shows a body of Italian troops starting on their way to a troop train to join the forces on the northern border of Italy. Every day great bodies of troops are hurled to the Austrian frontier to aid in the offensive campaign of the Italians.

have begun a general powerful offensive on the Dniester-Puth-Sereth front. From the Dniester the Russians have been obliged to retreat."

The Forcing of the Dniester

Now General von Linsingen's troops, under almost impossible conditions, forced a passage across the Dniester river, near Bukaczowce, in Galicia, and drove back the desperately battling Russians along a front several miles wide, on the morning of June 25, as told by Richard Schott, a correspondent of the Tages Zeitung. The Germans, the writer says, had to ford the deep, swift river, under merciless sharpshooters and machine gun fire, storm abrupt clay cliffs, and then charge for a mile across open meadows against the Russians who were entrenched in the deep wooded heights.

After days of fighting the Germans had the Russians in flight and had captured thousands of them. "On the night of June 25," the correspondent says, "the attack began along a broad front in the neighborhood of Bukaczowce, northwest of Katusz, which was executed under enormous difficulties by Wuerstendörfer's and East and West Prussian troops. The country at this point offers unusual advantages for defense. The high wooded land along the southern bank drops off abruptly to the various arms of the river, which is swift and deep."

"The northern shore is composed of vertical clay banks several yards high, then come open meadows a mile broad, shut in by thickly wooded heights, from which the enemy operated machine guns and cannon with all the great advantage. The position appeared untenable as the river crossing had to be made under a deadly fire."

"The German troops crossed in the darkness. Fog from the meadows had come to their aid and before dawn the first lines were on the opposite bank of the stream, and had begun an advance towards the woods. "Our opponents were able to check the attack only at the deepest river bank. One West Prussian regiment had to stand all day broad-deep in water. A soldier, in order to shoot, had to be lifted out of the water by others. Even these difficulties were overcome, however, and, with the assistance of a flanking fire, the troops crossed and finally reached and then stormed the enemy's chief position."

"With deliberation and calmness as though on the parade ground, the gigantic movement made progress until the city of Bukaczowce and its suburbs, occupied by the best Russian troops and Finnish sharpshooters, were taken and the Russians soon were retreating along the entire line."

"The Germans immediately fortified the heights beyond the meadows against counter attacks from the dispossessed Russians. Our troops are in excellent condition, despite their exertions and the exposure they have undergone."

Russian Retreat Orderly

Petrograd, June 30.—The following Russian official statement concerning the progress of hostilities was given out here last night:

"In the Slavik region we repulsed fresh German attacks. On the front of the Stemen and Narew rivers and on the left of the Vistula calm prevails."

"The advance of strong enemy forces along the entire front between the sources of the river Vopr, in the Government of Lublin, and the western front, continues, and here on rear-guard positions in the region of Tomaszów our troops on June 27 and 28 repulsed several desperate German attacks."

"The enemy on the Dniester, reinforced by fresh German troops quite recently thrown into this region, sought by the fiercest of attacks on the frontier Bantachewitz-Martynoff to throw disorder into our retirement towards the Gila Lipa river, but failed in this object and sustained enormous losses."

ALLIES MAKE PROGRESS ALONG STRAITS

Paris, June 30.—A Havas Agency despatch from Athens says the exhaustion of the Turks facing the French forces on the Gallipoli peninsula is evident and leads to the belief that the Turkish position at Krithia will soon be taken by assault. In a recent advance made by the French, it is said, 6,000 Turks were found dead in the trenches on the front taken.

Recent fighting in the Dardanelles has resulted in an appreciable advance by the Allies, and the inspiring leadership of General Gouraud, commander of the French expeditionary force at the Dardanelles, particularly distinguishing themselves. Facing the French, the correspondent continues, the Turkish front does not exceed three and one-quarter miles, which arbitrary sweeps continually. The Turks are meeting with growing difficulties in bringing up reinforcements and supplies, while the Allies have every facility for supplying their needs."

It is reported from a reliable source, the correspondent adds, that German officers have left Jaffa, in Palestine, and an important part in a neutral state, for Tripoli, to lead the natives there against the Italians. The Turkish, the correspondent reports, are said to have named to their cause a Semitic chief who promises a general rising of the Arabs in Tripoli.

GAIN NORTH OF ARRAS

Paris, June 30.—The French War Department today gave out the following official statement:

"In the last 24 hours to the north of Arras, there was a violent and successful engagement, together with some infantry engagements. To the north of Chateau de Courcel we made slight progress; to the south, at the Cabaret Rouge, a German attack was repulsed."

"In the Vosges German troops endeavored, at about 2 o'clock, to deliver a fresh attack against our positions to the east of Metzeral. This movement was easily checked."

The official communication issued by the War Office last night says: "On the rest of the front there is nothing to report except artillery actions."

President Poincaré spent Sunday and Monday in the first line trenches talking with the officers and men. The president watched a number of the batteries in action and then inspected the field hospitals just behind the lines. He pinned the military cross to the flags of six regiments which had been cited in the order of the day for valiant conduct.

CITY BRIEFS

Just because the Russians are falling back doesn't mean that the war is over. Even Pzemysl was won and lost again. Why not Lemberg?

Dean's Regulations are recommended by many who say they operate easily without griping and without bad after-effects, at all drug stores.

All pedestrians paying one way over the New Castle Bridge to Pierce's Island during the Knights of Pythias Encampment there will be given a free return pass.

All foot-passengers over the New Castle Bridge to Pierce's Island during the Encampment there of the Knights of Pythias will be charged one fare only.

The Sunset League game tonight will be played between the Y. M. C. A. and the Marines. The boys from the yard are becoming dangerous. Better make it a point to see the game.

The York Trench baseball season opens today. The first game scheduled is with the Pine Tree team of Portland. The Bracket of the Y. M. C. A. is a member of the York Trench nine.

The foot-bath from March's to Pierce's is completed for the Knights of Pythias Encampment, and the New Castle Bridge Co. will charge but one fare for foot-passengers over their structures during the Pythians' big outing.

WILL REACH PIKE'S PEAK BY AUTOMOBILE

New Highway a Wonderful Example of Mountain Road Building.

Denver, Col., July 1.—More than a century ago, Deacon Montezuma Pike discovered the mountain known as Pike's Peak and, accompanied by his little band, made a determined effort to reach the summit. After a laborious ascent which brought him only to the crest of one of the nearby mountains, he was forced to give up the attempt, predicting in his diary that no human would ever scale its rocky height.

Yet by August 1st of this year an automobile road to the summit of Pike's Peak will be a reality. Rights-of-way have been granted by the Federal government through portions of the Pike national forest and construction work is rapidly nearing completion.

The new auto highway connects with the Pike's Peak Ocean-to-Ocean Highway at Cascade, in historic Ute Pass, just west of Colorado Springs and Manitou, and follows the general route of the old carriage road built in 1888, pronounced by General William T. Sherman to be the most wonderful example of mountain road building he had ever seen.

From Cascade to the summit of Pike's Peak, 14,107 feet above sea level the road will be 17 miles long. It will be 20 feet wide all the way, with comparatively easy grades; the maximum being only ten per cent or 539 feet to the mile, and well safeguarded.

This ride culminates in a view from the top of the peak covering more than 60,000 square miles, 4,000 square miles greater than the State of Illinois—and a downward view of greater depth than the Grand Canyon of the Colorado.

GUESTS OF SAWYER RELIEF CORPS

Ten members of Storer Relief Corps of this city went to Dover on Wednesday afternoon where they were the guests of Sawyer Corps of that city. The party left here at one o'clock and made the trip by trolley.

Besides members of Storer Corps, there were also present representatives from the corps at Hampton, Southbrook, Danville, Northwood and Meriden.

A dainty collation, consisting of salads, rolls, assorted cake and coffee was served.

The Portsmouth contingent returned to this city at seven o'clock, after passing a very enjoyable afternoon and voting the members of the Dover corps royal entertainers.

For any pain, burn, scald or bruise apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil—the household remedy. Two sizes 25c and 50c at all drug stores.

LICENSE COMMISSION OUT OF EXISTENCE

REFUSED TO GRANT MORE LIQUOR LICENSES IN MANCHES-TER ON LAST DAY

The license commissioners, composed of Chairman Edmund Sullivan of Berlin, William J. Britton of Wolfboro and Dr. A. E. Brien of Manchester, went out of existence at midnight last night. They will be succeeded by an excise board, made up of Harry W. Keyes of Haverhill (chairman), Frank L. Ordway of Milford and Robert Jackson of Concord.

The last official act of the old board was to hold a hearing yesterday, investigating the charges against Leroy A. Nute of the Thornton Inn, Reed's Ferry, of selling liquor to a person not a bona fide guest and to an intoxicated person. Mr. Thomas H. Madigan of Manchester, appeared for Mr. Nute, and James A. Mayhew of the attorney-general's department represented the state. After an extended hearing the commission found in favor of Mr. Nute.

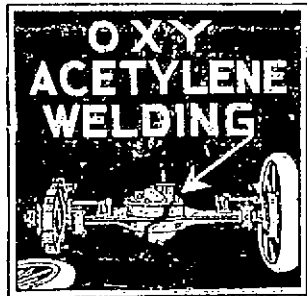

Chairman Sullivan of the commission put a quietus on any proposition to issue more licenses in Manchester on the last day of the commission, and announced there would be nothing done in this line. Representatives of those who were anxious to secure new licenses were present, but the chairman told them that none would be issued.

has been congested and there have been many close calls from accidents. In order to overcome this difficulty the Hampton town authorities have decided to forbid all parking in front of the Casino, and are arranging a parking space on the unoccupied land south of the park below the band stand.

This strip of land is owned by the town and has been filled in and graded for a long distance. Machines will be able to park here three or four deep, and there will be ample room for all. This move on the part of the selectmen has not met with the unqualified approval of automobilists, who are objecting strenuously. The authorities are firmly set on the change and Chairman Brown of the selectmen had a large gang of men at work yesterday making ready for the Fourth of July rush.

Under the new scheme the roadway in front of the Casino will be kept pretty free of machines, so far as parking is concerned. The passing of the hundreds of the Casino across the road to the cars during the crowded hours has given the railroad officials and the police much concern in the past.

AMESBURY MAN FOUND DEAD

Amesbury, June 30—John J. Spillane, aged about 41 years, a carriage blacksmith by trade, and residing at 4 Winter street, was found dead near two hay stacks at the rear of the farm barn of John H. Hanley, a local teamster, whose place is on the Pleasant street extension. Mr. Hanley went to his barn from his home on Church street, at the usual hour this morning and in looking about his premises at about 6.30, found Mr. Spillane dead.

Spillane was at Salisbury Beach yesterday and when found there was a couple of knives and some money in his pockets. That it was a case of accidental death by suffocation was quite evident to the police as well as to Assistant Medical Inspector D. D. Murphy, who was called to view the remains.

Patrolman Frank Legassio was called as soon as Mr. Hanley discovered the body, and he in turn notified Chief Rowell, who went to the scene. It is presumed that Spillane went to the Hanley premises, as it is reported some have done in the past, to sleep in the hay, two large stacks of which are in the rear of the barn on the Sparhawk street side.

He had evidently fallen, for when found he had his hands in his pockets and was lying face down in the hay. This caused him to suffocate for the body had turned black in the meantime. Undertaker O'Donnell was called and conveyed the remains to his undertaking rooms on Friend street. Mr. Spillane was single. He was well known about town as a carriage worker.

POLICE NOTICE.

The attention of citizens is hereby called to the following notice. The discharge of firearms of any description within the described area, to wit:

From Market Square through Market street to foot of Hanover, through Daniel to Penhallow, through Pleasant to State, through Congress to Middle, from Pleasant on State to Middle, Junius avenue from Pleasant street to South street, is positively prohibited at all times.

The discharge of any sort of fireworks in any other part of the city of Portsmouth before 12 o'clock Sunday night, July 4, 1915, is also prohibited.

Any person violating this order will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Per order,
MICHAEL HURLEY,
City Marshal.

THREE AUTOS DAMAGED IN A COLLISION

FORD UNDER TOW RAN INTO BY OVERLAND CAR ON ROAD BETWEEN SEABROOK AND SALISBURY

A serious collision resulted in the smashing of three autos on the road between Salisbury and Seabrook yesterday afternoon. None of the occupants of the cars were seriously injured, although all were badly shaken up and received bad cuts. One man was cut about the face and head, and another had a bad wound on his right leg. A little child, aged two years, seated on the rear seat of one of the cars was thrown over into the front seat and was saved from being seriously injured by one of the men entangling him. The names of the owners of the cars could not be learned.

A Ford car, bound from Lynn, Mass., to Northwood, N. H., broke the crankshaft in Seabrook, and a Chalmers was sent from Newburyport to tow it to a garage for repairs. On the road between Seabrook and Salisbury an Overland car, belonging to the advertising department of the 7-20-4 Cigar Company, ran into the two other cars, after skidding more than fifty feet, when the driver attempted to bring it to a stop.

The occupants of the auto passed through this city last evening on their way to Northwood.

President Wilson refused to be bothered by the representatives of Mexico at the Summer White House. He sent them back to Washington to talk things over with Secretary Lansing. Well, they had a chance to see some pretty fine scenery in the old Granite State for their trouble of calling.

ONLY FIVE WERE ON DUTY

Commission Continues to Cut Expense in Police Department.

On Wednesday night there were just five patrolmen covering this city. Carleton, Schreider, Kelley, Philbrick, Condon, Officer Robinson acting at the station in place of Captain Burke who is off duty. Just think of it! Five men attempting to do the work that was formerly done by ten or twelve men when the city was appropriating several thousand dollars more for all departments than it is today.

The fact that several policemen have been transferred to day duty is no reason why the night force should be reduced to such a small number and the property of tax payers in all parts of the city, with the exception of the down town district, left to the mercy of thieves and other offenders of the law.

The howl about increase of taxes is a poor excuse as the taxpayers at present in the West End district are really getting nothing in the way of police protection for the money they are paying.

There was no protest when the night force consisted of a dozen or more men well habited for the work. It has been suggested that commissions might go further in the matter of economy by doing away entirely of police on the outskirts of the city and trust to the Ruler of the Universe for the continued protection of life and property. A revival is certainly needed somewhere.

In to the Portsmouth parish as assistant to the acting pastor, Rev. Frank A. Mulvanity. Since the death of Rev. Edward J. Walsh, J. R., Jr., Mulvanity has had the services of the different clergy from St. Anne's College on Sundays only. The temporary appointment of Fr. Dargis will likely continue until a permanent rector is named for the local parish. The new assistant was recently ordained and is expected to begin his duties here on Sunday next.

FOUND DEAD IN HER ROOM

Had Expired 24 Hours When Police Were Called.

Mrs. Louise Slaughter, an aged colored lady, residing at 124 Washington street, was found dead in her room this morning by her son, James P. Slaughter, and Chief of Police Hurley who was called. Mrs. Slaughter who was 73 years old, has been living alone for some time, and was last seen alive by her son on Tuesday night. Today he called again at the house and found the door of her room locked. Getting no response from his mother he called the police who forced an entrance and found her on the floor clad in her night clothes. Medical Referee Dr. A. B. Sherburne was called and pronounced death due to heart trouble to which she was subject. He was of the opinion that she had been dead about 24 hours.

Afternoon.

About fifty members of the Dalton Club of Newburyport participated in the annual outing held at the Farragut, Rye, Beach on Wednesday, the members of the party being conveyed to and from the beach in automobiles.

The usual sports were carried out during the day and at the noon hour a banquet was enjoyed at the Farragut House. A ball game was pulled off between two scrub teams. The "Yale" nine captained by Harry A. Cole, defeated the "Daltonmouth" team under the leadership of Norman Russell by a score of 7 to 2.

In the field sports the bean bag contest was won by David B. Collins and William Sanders. The prize for automobiles reaching Rye nearly the entire garrison had been with-pulled off by Jerry Lant. Herbert S. Coyes carried off the honors in the barrel contest. This was played by the contestants entering barrels and with poles endeavoring to tip over their opponents.
